

Unique White Mould Management.

Acapela™

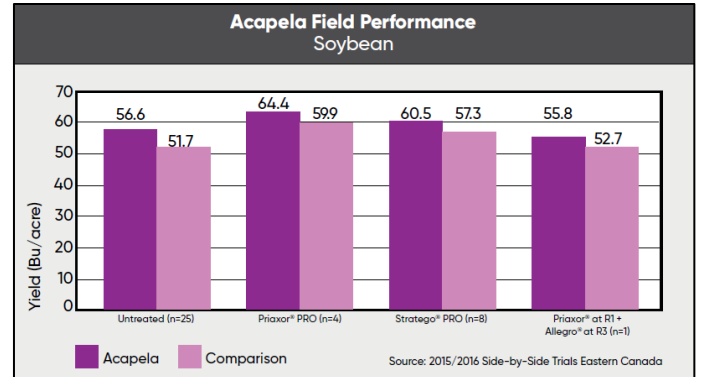

FUNGICIDE

You chose wisely when you selected Brevant® seeds brand soybeans and we're excited to share with you a product that will help protect your high-yielding genetics.

Acapela™ fungicide is a one-of-a-kind fungicide that provides reliable protection against white mould in soybeans. Acapela also provides proven and powerful protection against Asian soybean rust, frogeye leaf spot, and septoria brown spot.

In side-by-side trials in Ontario and Quebec, Acapela outperformed competitor fungicides, delivering an average yield increase of 4.9* bushels/acres against untreated fields.

* Average yield increase of 4.9 bushels/acre based on Side-by-Side trials in Eastern Canada.

Acapela has 4 unique movement properties that provide more complete coverage by quickly and efficiently surrounding, penetrating and protecting the leaf and stem. In addition to outstanding disease control, Acapela supports positive plant performance, increasing chlorophyll content, even in stressful conditions.
